

Glider-Bomb Secret Revealed By U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bat, a glider-bomb with radar in its nose, by which it automatically tracked enemy ships for miles, twisting and turning with them, until it hit the target, was announced Friday by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. The U.S. Navy authorized the announcement.

The Bat is the counterpart of the proximity fuse, that exploded shells when they were within 75 feet of the target. The Bat, one of the war's secrets, differs in having a guiding range of several miles and exploding when it hits.

The new weapon is a glider about 12 feet long, with a 10-foot wing spread. It is dropped by a mother-plane. The nose sends radar impulses to the target and picks them up as they are reflected back. The pick-up automatically guides the glider. The bomb behind the nose weighs about half a ton.

The name comes from the fact that a bat guides itself in flight in a somewhat similar manner, using super-sound waves instead of radar.

The glider Bat went into action in 1945. The announcement said the weapon crash dived many tons of Japanese shipping. The only Bat combat report released was one of the first, when two mother-planes sighted two Jap destroyers at 20 miles. From beyond the range of the Jap anti-aircraft guns, one Bat glided straight to a destroyer and blew off the ship's bow. Fate of the other destroyer was not told.

The promenade is a gravel road; the greensward isn't green—it's mud; and the ivy-covered walls are bare lumber, but it's home for married students at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Cambridge, Mass. Housing above was erected at Westgate, adjacent to the M.I.T. campus, for the married vets. There are 100 houses, 50 of which have an extra bedroom and separate kitchen for families with children. The development covers nearly 10 acres of land.

More Than 180,000 Soccer Fans Jam Grounds to See Cup Games

LONDON (CP)—Birmingham City, Bolton Wanderers, Charlton Athletic and Derby County advanced today to the semifinals in the first postwar English Football Association Cup competition as for the second week in a row more than 180,000 soccer fans jammed the grounds where cup games were being played.

Tragedy marked the scoreless Bolton, Lancashire, game between the home-town Wanderers and Stoke City when a wall collapsed on part of a vast crowd of 60,000 to 70,000 spectators. At least 38 persons, including two women, were killed and many injured.

The game continued despite the accident and Bolton moved into the cup semifinals by virtue of a two goal margin set up in last week-end's 2 to 0 victory over Stoke City.

Birmingham City, favored to win it all, reached the semifinal for the third time in the club's history by a convincing 6 to 0 victory over Bradford, who had no answer for Birmingham's skill in attack. Coupled with last week's 2 to 2 tie, the aggregate total for Birmingham in the quarter final round was 8 to 2.

Charlton Athletic, also favored by many for the cup went into the semifinals by an aggregate score of 9 to 4 over Brentford. Brentford wasted a dozen good chances at Griffith Park and Charlton won their first away from the cup-tie victory by a 5 to 1 score.

Derby County moved ahead despite a 1-1 tie against Aston Villa because they had set up a one-point margin last week with a 4 to 3 win. Derby scored a well-deserved win for they played doggedly for 80 minutes without Sammy Crookes, their English international team outside right wing. The Villa never looked equal to their opponents who have shown almost as much promise as Birmingham and Charlton.

In regular league play, Chesterfield whitewashed Burnley 3 to 0 in League North while Everton and Sheffield Wednesday played to a 2 to 2 tie. Manchester United whipped Blackburn Rovers 6 to 2.

In League North, Chelsea eased past Arsenal with a 2 to 1 win while the weak Tottenham Hotspur squad held Fulham to a 1 to 1 tie. Swansea Town defeated Leicester City 4 to 3.

Hint British Army Wants Gen. Simonds

OTTAWA (CP)—The military future of Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, 43, C.B., D.S.O., Kingston, Ont., formerly of Victoria, B.C., commander of the Canadian Army Occupation Force in The Netherlands, has been the subject of discussion at Defence Headquarters, but it is understood no decision has been reached.

It was learned that Gen. Simonds—a native Englishman—has indicated he wants to go to the British army.

The youthful and brilliant commander, who led a corps through Northwest Europe and at times as acting commander of the 1st Canadian Army, is to leave for Canada March 25.

His command now is being wound up and defence headquarters will hope to have an answer for him on his next post when he returns early in April.

It is known that the British army, and especially Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, is anxious to have Gen. Simonds. Viscount Montgomery is said to have looked upon Gen. Simonds as one of the most brilliant corps commanders in the 21st Army Group.

Russia Follows Germany's Path, Premier Drew Warns

TORONTO (CP)—Canadians "have a particular reason for being greatly concerned with the course of Russian aggression," Premier Drew of Ontario said today to the convention of the Credit Granters' Association of Canada.

Describing the immediate issue for the world as war or peace, the premier said: "One nation and one nation alone threatens the peace of the world. Russian aggression is following precisely the same pattern and using the same method as Germany used before the outbreak of the war which she so recently won."

Since 1940, Soviet Russia imposed its will on Finland, Poland, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Rumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, eastern Czechoslovakia, northern Persia and, partially, Hungary.

Now Azerbaijan and Manchuria were in the path of Russian aggression. Tomorrow it might be Turkey. "Who can tell where it will be the day after tomorrow?"

Since men unlocked the secret of the atom, radium became the most important military possession. There were two great known deposits—one in the Belgian Congo and the other in Canada's Northwest Territories. The Congo is separated from Russia by many nations "but the Canadian deposit is very close to Russia in terms of distance."

"Although it is a long way inside Canada it is about three hours' flying time from the nearest Russian airfield. . . . Is there any reason why Great Bear Lake should be less within the Russian zone of influence than Manchuria, Persia or Turkey?"

"The bare, unvarnished truth is that unless Russian aggression is stopped we are in the front line."

The premier continued: "It is difficult to imagine that anyone is so naive that they think a northern operation of this kind (Muskox) is carried out for the purpose of testing out ability to defend ourselves against the inhabitants of Greenland and yet such is our sweet simplicity that on this northern operation which could only have one possible threat in mind, our army took along with them a Russian military observer."

Three powers—Russia, the United States and Britain—would decide the issue of peace or war, he said.

He was commenting on a Washington dispatch Friday night which said United States Army personnel who "lack loyalty to the Government and Constitution of the United States" are to be barred from "sensitive duties."

The defence spokesman said if a change was contemplated, it would be a matter of policy. Defence Minister Abbott and Air Minister Gibson were not available to comment on this possibility.

Gets Chicken Pox
WASHINGTON (AP)—Lord Halifax, British Ambassador, has the chicken pox and embassy officials have their fingers crossed—hoping Winston Churchill doesn't catch it.

Halifax is confined to the Embassy, and Churchill returned there today after a trip to Richmond, Va.

Into the detention barracks area and the custody of the Canadian guards.

Schulz informed Mr. Gow he had run away "because there had been a similar case at Lethbridge (internment camp) where a prisoner had been beaten, and as they had posted guards outside after my examination I was not sure what my fate would be. I could not trust anybody, so went over the wire."

Plaszek's body was found hanging in the west recreation hall of the camp before he could be questioned. Schulz, who had served with Plaszek in Africa as a member of Hitler's Afrika Korps, described his as a "pleasant, quiet man who never got into trouble."

Sgt. Maj. Ludwig Kammermeier, cross-examination by L. S. Turcotte, deifying Kratz, said he had heard no "undue commotion" and seen no unusual gathering from the time he left Plaszek at the interrogation hut until he had finished his evening meal and returned to the hut.

Here a "dense crowd" had informed him that a Canadian and a German doctor were inside the recreation hall, which was closed. Kammermeier said he knew Plaszek had been hanged, having been so informed during his meal.

Two other witnesses, Lt. W. A. Dave, a scout officer, and QMS. Harry Hettema, an interpreter, told of entering the compound on the day in question and helping Schulz to get "over the wire" and

Departing Ambassador Optimistic About British-Egypt Negotiations

CAIRO (Reuter) — Baron Killearn, acting British ambassador to Egypt, said today he is optimistic about the outcome of the negotiations for revision of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty governing the presence of British troops in Egypt.
"If you get down to basic facts there is no conceivable reason for anything but optimism," he being nationalistic, for we are all said. "I do not blame anyone for nationalists."
Holding his last press conference in his capacity as ambassador to Egypt before leaving Cairo tonight to take up his new post as food commissioner for southeast Asia, Lord Killearn was asked if the treaty negotiations would apply to the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, now ruled by Anglo-Egyptian condominium.
"They apply to the whole thing," he replied.
Abdel Fatah Amr Pasha, Egyptian ambassador to Britain, today was instructed by Premier Sidky Pasha to tell the British government Egypt intends to enter the forthcoming negotiations for a revision of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian Treaty "free of all restrictions."
Usually reliable quarters here expect the negotiations to start about the end of the month.
Sir Ronald Campbell, who succeeds Lord Killearn, is expected to arrive in the Middle East next week.
Premier Sidky Pasha announced the situation in Egypt was very quiet, and the student agitation had died down.

Cardinal Glennon Dies in Dublin
DUBLIN (AP) — John Cardinal Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis and the oldest of the 32 cardinals elevated to the purple two weeks ago during consistories at Vatican City, died here today at the home of Sean O'Kelly, President of Eire. He was 83 years of age.
The Irish-born prelate succumbed from complications which followed a congestion of the lungs.
His death reduced the membership of the Sacred College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church to 68.
The passing of the cardinal was announced by Msgr. John P. Cody, who said the body would be returned to St. Louis for burial.
Cardinal Glennon, who left the Irish Missionary Seminary at the age of 21 to serve in the Kansas City diocese, had been a guest of Mr. O'Kelly since his arrival here from Vatican City last Monday.
He had received his Red Hat from Pope Pius Feb. 21.

Receives Czech M.C.

Maj. Dennis D. Sweeting, D.S.O., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sweeting, Rockland Court, shown with the decoration he received at the recent investiture at Government House, has been awarded the Czechoslovak Military Cross, Defence Headquarters in Ottawa announced today.

The citation accompanying the award said Maj. Sweeting was responsible for organizing air support given to the independent army brigade group while operating in the Dunkerque area.

"His unsparing efforts contributed very largely to the success of the brigade, especially in the stages where there was an acute shortage of infantry," the citation said.
Born and educated in Winnipeg, and employed there by the Hudson's Bay Co. at the war's outbreak, Maj. Sweeting enlisted Sept. 2, 1939. He served overseas with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGregor. With his wife, Doreen, he is now living in Trail.

P.O.W.'s Met Girls Attended Dances In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police had in custody today Heinz Wirtz, one of the most artful of all the escape artists among German prisoners of war held in Canada.

The arrest Friday ended the 26-year-old German's fourth break from prisoner-of-war custody and came as the result of a tip from a sharp-eyed civilian.

With his capture only six of the 35,000 German prisoners held in Canada at one time or another are known to be at large, the object of intensive police search.

A swarthy, dark-haired man of determined mien, Wirtz had gone undercover and found himself a job in a Toronto hospital. Only Thursday his picture, along with those of other escaped prisoners was published in Toronto.

And Friday, even while disciplinary measures were being taken against other German prisoners of war who have been slipping out of a Cooksville, Ont., prisoner compound almost at will, police received the tip on Wirtz.

His pictures showed him scowling and his forehead lined. He was five feet seven inches tall and had escaped from a farm in the St. Thomas district.

Wirtz wanted absolute freedom while the German prisoners of war employed in a brickyard at nearby Cooksville were satisfied with enjoying a lot of privileges to which they were not entitled, and only Thursday night was it discovered they were meeting girl friends, visiting district homes, attending dances and concerts in Toronto and even going so far as to take sight-seeing jaunts to Niagara Falls.

Police say they believe two other escaped Germans are in the Toronto area.

Brighter Prospect For Labor Peace in U.S. As Quiet Reigns

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States labor front, after a week marked by threatening strikes against communications and railroad systems, appeared comparatively quiet — and somewhat brighter — today.

The postponing of a walkout of nearly 300,000 railroad workers, scheduled for Monday, after President Truman named a fact-finding board followed settlement on Thursday of the wage dispute involving some 250,000 telephone workers.

As 17,300 Western Electric Company employees in New York and New Jersey ended their 65-day strike, special mediator Arthur S. Meyer in New York expressed hope a settlement might be reached soon in the 53-day work stoppage of 100,000 General Electric Company employees.

A union official said the Western Electric agreement, calling for a wage increase of 18 per cent (about 17.6 cents an hour), was ratified Friday night by union members.

DISCIPLINARY MOVES
In San Francisco, International officers of the Independent Association of Machinists, ended a four-month-old strike of 7,000 machinists in Bay area shipyards, asserting it was "illegal and unsanctioned." They ordered disciplinary action against local leaders for what they termed the unauthorized walkout.

Other striking machinists in the area, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the C.I.O., were not affected by the I.A.M.'s action. An estimated 50,000 workers have been kept idle by the machinists' strike. Union spokesmen said the I.A.M. had accepted an 18-cent hourly pay increase.

The C.I.O. United Auto Workers announced in Detroit that the Nash-Kelvinator Company had granted an 18-cent hourly wage increase to 8,000 workers in plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis. The settlement was the fourth major wage agreement reached in the auto industry. Ford, Chrysler and Hudson previously having granted pay raises.

The U.A.W. continued its negotiations with General Motors, but there were no indications of immediate settlement of the wage strike of 175,000 production workers.

Planning Committee Named for Legion Branch

G. E. Wilson was elected president of a temporary executive to draw up a constitution and by-laws for an air force branch of the Canadian Legion, at a meeting Friday night in Britannia Branch headquarters.

Other members of the executive committee named were: N. L. B. Hull, secretary; V. G. Bugslag, A. G. Meek, J. Meikle, E. A. Blake, H. W. Flett, A. A. Clapp and L. Tosh.

March 22 was set as a tentative date for the next general meeting, also to be held at Britannia Branch headquarters.

Robert Knight, chairman of the Canadian Legion Zone Council, said formation of an air force branch of the Legion in Victoria definitely would be beneficial.

Prospective members of the branch attending the meeting saw a film "Roads South" showing the use of air transport in servicing remote sections of South America.

C.M.A. Chairman Strongly Opposed To 40-Hour Week

VANCOUVER (CP)—Strong opposition to the proposed 40-hour week was expressed by James S. Eckman, retiring chairman of the B.C. Division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, when he presented his report of stewardship in 1945 to the annual meeting of the association here Friday night.

The fact that industry in this province is largely seasonal works against the 40-hour week, Mr. Eckman contended.

"The seasonal industries, and especially processing perishables, would find their labor costs greatly increased under a 40-hour week, no reduction in pay, time-and-a-half after the 40-hour program," he said.

"They would have to increase domestic prices substantially to meet such increases costs, but it is most unlikely they could increase prices in export markets and meet competition."

He referred especially to lumbering, fishing and fruit and vegetable canning.

Instead of making the 40-hour week law in B.C., Mr. Eckman said it would be more feasible to retain the 48-hour week, leaving adjustment downward in hours up to individual industries.

The Dominion government's price control policy, workable during the war, now was having the effect of discouraging production and decreasing employment, he said.

Business was willing, he said, to accept control in wartime, but "I know it is the universal feeling now that our government is showing too great reluctance to modify or remove these controls."

"By delaying necessary action in this direction, the government is defeating its own professed objects of increasing employment, of increasing the supply of consumer goods, and of preventing inflation."

that the "United States government statement infringes the Moscow decision" because it informs Bulgaria that the new opposition members should participate in the government under "conditions mutually acceptable" to the government and the opposition.

The decision actually said nothing about "any mutually acceptable condition," Moscow asserted.

Bulgarian opposition parties are reported to have declined "figurehead" positions in the cabinet, stating they would join the government only if assured they would have real powers."

The broadcast version of the Russian note also asserted that Maynard B. Barnes, U.S. representative in Bulgaria, "has systematically instigated the Bulgarian opposition not to act in accordance with the three-minister decision, but to put forward new conditions for joining the Bulgarian government—conditions not provided for by the Moscow conference."

"The Soviet government has before now drawn attention of the U.S. government" to Barnes' activities, it added.

B.C.E.R. Announces $80,000 Deal In Pandora-Cormorant Area

Purchase of property fronting on Douglas Street, between Pandora Avenue and Cormorant Street, by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, was announced today by W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president.

Purchase price involved in the deal was $80,000. The purchase was made from J. H. Todd & Sons, the owners.

The property includes, in addition to the present site of the B.C. Electric's Douglas Street store, the branch office of the Royal Bank of Canada at Douglas and Cormorant Streets, and Arnold's Bakery, the Charcuterie Francaise and the City Hall News Stand, all fronting on Douglas Street.

Mr. Mainwaring said the property had been acquired in the course of the company's expansion program as a centrally located site available for the development of any future plans.

None of these plans had reached any concrete stage and it was impossible at this point to indicate what the immediate prospects were, he said.

Britain Backs U.S. Stand On Government of Bulgaria

LONDON (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today Britain supported a United States demand that Bulgaria's government be broadened to include two members of the opposition before Anglo-American recognition is accorded the Sofia regime.

The spokesman said Richard Tillinton, Britain's acting representative in Sofia, had informed the Bulgarian government several days ago that Britain was associating herself with the United States memorandum.

He said Mr. Tillinton had kept the Foreign Office "fully informed" of political activities in Bulgaria and added that there was "nothing to indicate" that the U.S. representative in Sofia, Maynard Barnes, had exerted pressure on the Bulgarian opposition.

Seek Stabilization

The spokesman explained, however, that both Mr. Tillinton and Mr. Barnes had been trying to bring about a stabilization of the Bulgarian political situation so that the country could be accorded British-U.S. recognition.

The spokesman's disclosure of Britain's stand followed Russia's protest that the U.S. communication to Bulgaria "infringes" a decision of the Big Three foreign ministers and has caused the opposition to the Bulgarian government to "sabotage" the three-power agreement.

The accusations, contained in a Soviet note to the U.S. were broadcast Friday night by the Moscow radio.

The broadcast said the note had been handed to the U.S. State Department earlier this week.

The Bulgarian decision, drafted in Moscow last December, declared the U.S. and Britain would recognize Bulgaria after her cabinet had been broadened to include two members of opposition groups. The agreement was approved by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States, Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov of Russia and Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain.

The Russian broadcast asserted

Fires in Mukden As Russians Leave

CHUNGKING (AP)—Central News Agency said today Russian troops had withdrawn completely from Mukden and that fires had broken out in several parts of the city, largest in Manchuria. There was no elaboration of the reference to fires.

News of the Soviet withdrawal was greeted with considerable relief by Chinese quarters in Chungking and eased some of the tension which has been mounting for weeks over the Manchurian situation.

Chinese waited hopefully to see if abandonment of Mukden might mean general Russian evacuation in Manchuria, where Soviet forces now have stayed five weeks beyond the last-agreed deadline for their departure, Feb. 1.

Need Prompt Action By Unrra To Avert Starvation In Hunan

SHANGHAI (Reuter)—Relief supplies, chiefly flour, used clothing and medicine, are being rushed to war-ravaged Hunan Province and Manchuria, following reports describing the plight of millions of men, women and children in those areas.

Prompt action is essential to save some 1,500,000 lives in Hunan, says Horatio Hawkins, U.S. representative of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in that province.

Mr. Hawkins said 100,000 workers might be employed on road building work, and these would be paid mainly in food. But there were thousands more for whom relief must be provided as well as doctors and medical supplies.

Surveys are being carried out by Unrra and the Chinese National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to determine the province's needs.

Plans suggested to provide work for the needy include the improvement of waterways and irrigation systems, road building, rebuilding of homes for war victims, help in rebuilding of hospitals, and work in mining and industrial fields.

In Manchuria, the need for immediate relief is almost as urgent. The director of C.N.R.R.A.'s relief department, who has returned here from a 10-day tour of the northeastern provinces, said people in Manchuria are clad in thin, scanty clothing, although the temperature has fallen at times below zero.

He said disease and pestilence are spreading fast and that bubonic plague was reported to have broken out 40 miles from Changchun, the capital.

Food and transport were scarce in all areas.

pair were brought Friday to Castello Square.

In Rome seven persons were injured in a clash between police and a group of unemployed who tried to break into Viminale Palace, the seat of government, during a demonstration Friday.

Fight First Grass Fire

The first grass fire of 1946 was fought by city firemen at Topaz and Quadra Streets shortly after 4 Friday afternoon.

"That's a sure sign of spring," firemen commented.

It was the earliest grass fire reported for many years. The blaze swept across a strip of grass which covered practically an acre.

LONDON (CP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today there was "no indication" that Foreign Secretary Bevin would attend the United Nations' Security Council meeting in New York March 21.

Youths Charged In Court With Entering, Theft

Six youths, three of them juveniles, were arrested by city and provincial police Friday night during continued investigations of recent cases of burglary and theft. All six appeared in court today and were remanded until next week.

In city police court Harold Charles Clarke, 19 years, and James Robert Wakeham, 18 years, were charged with breaking and entering the Quality Grocery, 1024 Finlayson Avenue, with theft, on or about Feb. 25 last. Through counsel, George Gregory, both reserved election of trial and plea. They were remanded until Tuesday, and bail was set at $1,000 each with one or more sureties.

Similarly charged in juvenile court were two boys, both 16 years of age, who were remanded until Monday when they pleaded guilty. They were ordered to be held in custody.

One of them also pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break into Gelling's Grocery, 1024 Finlayson Avenue, on Feb. 20, and was remanded to Monday on this charge as well.

The provincial police court held immediately after the city police court sitting, Gordon McCullough, 18 years, who, police said, came from Vancouver, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing $8 in bills, a pair of shoes and a pair of socks from a storehouse of the Canadian Puget Sound Logging Company at Jordan River March 8. He was remanded until Monday.

A 16-year-old boy was charged in juvenile court prior to this with the same theft and was remanded until Monday. Police stated he was from Vancouver also.

ALL CITY BOYS

In the Finlayson Avenue Quality Grocery store theft, for which the four youths, all of whom, police said, were from the city, a large quantity of cigarettes, tinned fruit, jam, $3 in stamps and 50 cents in pennies, were reported to have been stolen.

The store operated by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Griffith, Langford Lake, was reported to have been broken into through a rear window.

In the attempted breaking and entering of Gelling's Grocery, B. C. Stevens, 1038 Clare Street, told police he gave chase to a youth shortly before midnight of Feb. 20, after the youth had smashed the glass in the front door of the premises. He described the window smasher as being five feet, nine or 10 inches tall, slight in build, with straight dark hair. The burglar, he said, had escaped.

B.C. police Constable Allan Quinn, who conducted the hearing of McCullough on the Jordan River theft, said the accused, with a juvenile, had been working for the Canadian Puget Sound Logging Company, and had signed off the payroll Friday morning.

Quinn said that he and Constable J. Gregory, also of the provincial force, had arrested McCullough and the juvenile when they attempted to board the midnight boat to Vancouver Friday night, at 11.10.

No More Arrests

OTTAWA (CP)—High R.C. M.P. officers said today they had no reason for believing any further detentions were imminent in Canada's Soviet spy ring probe, although they did not rule out the possibility of additional arrests in the future. The police are operating under orders from the Royal Commission and the decision on detentions rests with the commission.

2 Women Lynched In Italian Riots; 2,000 Persons Jailed

ANDRIA, Italy (AP)—Nearly 2,000 persons were reported by the newspaper Il Tempo to be under arrest today in connection with riots and the lynching of two elderly women by unemployed farm hands in this troubled southern Italian town.

At least 10 persons have been killed and 40 to 50 injured in four days of disorders.

The women were lynched Thursday night after shots had been fired into a mass meeting. A mob, believing the shots had come from a house occupied by four elderly sisters, broke into the dwelling, injured two of the women and kidnapped the other two.

The bodies of the kidnapped

49,000 Perish In South Hupeh

CHUNGKING (AP)—A Chinese dispatch today reported famine and pestilence had claimed another 49,000 lives in southern Hupeh province adjoining Hunan province, the "rice bowl of China," where even worse conditions were described by Unrra officials this week.

Butter $1 Pound

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Dairy officials here said today that a black market in butter is flourishing in the Fraser Valley with prices as high as $1 a pound. They said the bulk of the bootlegging is done with butter manufactured on small farms having one to three cows.

38 Soccer Fans In England Killed As Stand Collapses

BOLTON, Lancashire, Eng. (CP)—Thirty-eight persons were killed here today when a football grandstand collapsed while 60,000 soccer fans were watching a game between Stoke City and Bolton Wanderers. A large number were injured.

The tragedy struck while the record crowd was jamming Burden Park stadium in the English Midlands. The size of the gathering twice had caused a halt in the game while police cleared spectators from the field.

The teams, continuing after the accident despite chaotic scenes around the field, played to a scoreless draw in the English Football Association cup's sixth round.

A woman ambulance worker said: "So many people have been crushed that the situation in dealing with casualties becomes most difficult."

Fire brigade and police patrol vehicles assisted the fleet of ambulances carrying the dead and injured to Bolton Hospital.

Many of the casualties were caused through spectators being trampled upon when a wall collapsed in the rear of the grandstand.

An SOS was sent out for doctors, but there were insufficient to deal with the injuries.

Today's tragedy is believed to be the greatest disaster of its kind in Britain. The last disaster at a football ground was at Ibrox Park, Scotland, during the England-Scotland international game in 1902 when 25 people were killed and 192 seriously injured.

Crowds in far portions of the stadium today were unaware of the collapse of the grandstand, and play continued while ambulances removed casualties outside the big park.

Witnesses said the stand crashed after the crowd in one section had begun to sway. As the structure toppled, hundreds of persons were hurled down on spectators seated in front of them.

Carried Over People

A spectator at the game, Christopher Stone, said he began to feel the crowd surge forward and "felt as if my ribs were being crushed." He said he felt himself gradually losing consciousness and "when I came round I found myself being carried over piles of people apparently about four deep."

Another witness said he was lifted off his feet when the crowd began to shove forward and was flung on the heads of those in front.

"I saw people on the ground and others sweeping over them," he added. "It was a horrible experience."

Emergency calls for doctors were sent throughout the Lancashire area.

University Women Want Plan Expert

The Victoria University Women's Club has written the City Council proposing that the four municipalities of Greater Victoria be amalgamated into one, and that "a highly-qualified town planner be secured, who will produce a master plan for the whole Greater Victoria district."

It was further suggested by the club that this planner be employed before any large expenditure of public funds is made, or any sites fixed.

"Referring to the town-planning expert," the letter continued, "it is understood that he should work in constant consultation with the Town-Planning Commission, and all civic officials concerned. He should have recent training and experience in town planning."

The women in the organization who are residents of all four municipalities believe, the letter stated, that "money spent now for the most expert advice will avoid costly blunders and prove true economy in the long run."

Courtesy Slogan In Traffic Drive

"Courteous drivers are safe drivers," is a slogan which city police have adopted in a drive to lessen the number of traffic accidents.

"Where is the connection between the two, you ask," said Chief John A. McLellan. "Well, here's the way we look at it:

"The pace of modern living tends to rob us of our courtesy. In the horse and buggy days when we traveled at five miles an hour, a few minutes did not mean much. But when we travel at 30, a minute's delay represents half a mile, and we resent it. "This tends to deprive us of our individuality and traffic becomes to us, not so many human beings moving along a highway, but so many machines. So we become rude and reckless and use a manner towards automobiles that we would not use towards people.

"We don't want to go back to the horse and buggy days, but neither do we want to value time above courtesy and safety on the road."

'Blue Baby' Campaign Realized $3,500

Victorians contributed in the neighborhood of $3,500 to the Janet "blue baby" fund sponsored by the Victoria Lions Club to finance a journey to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for a life-saving operation. John B. Priestley, vice-president of the club and campaign committee chairman, reported the club's effort in this case would be reviewed at a directors' meeting Monday night.

McKellar to Speak On Atomic Energy

Dr. Andrew McKellar of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Astronomical Society to be held Wednesday, at 8, in Victoria College.

Dr. McKellar will discuss the main steps that have culminated in the production of atomic energy. He will make reference to the development of the atomic bomb, and discuss some aspects of future possibilities for the utilization by mankind of the enormous store of energy in atomic nuclei.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Women Discuss Their Position in Employment Field

Woman's place in the postwar world, with particular reference to the role of married women in the employment picture was the highly controversial topic for discussion at a special meeting of the Women's Round Table Friday evening in the Victoria Truth Centre.

Providing a basis for the discussion, Mrs. Rex Eaton of Vancouver presented a picture of the employment of women in Canada from the years preceding the last war until the present day.

"There were 1,115,000 women employed in Canada at the peak of the war industry," Mrs. Eaton said, "as compared with 638,000 in industry in 1939. With 275,000 of these women in war industries, and an additional 35,000 in the armed services, it is difficult to realize that during the past few months the transition of these women to peacetime jobs has taken place. Except, however, for those women whose qualifications or desires do not suit the job offered."

Mrs. Eaton stated that in many communities, the number of unemployed women could be matched with the position open, but the inability to fit the worker to the opportunity is a problem that still has to be met.

EMPLOYEE'S SIDE

"Another problem we must face as women," the speaker continued, "is the condition where a man and a woman have the same qualifications for either a position or a promotion, and the employer decides in favor of the man."

Mrs. Eaton urged the audience to realize it is an established fact that the record of working time for a man is much greater than that of a woman. An employer has no way of knowing how long a woman will work before being married. "There is that fact of the 'hazard of marriage' in a woman's career," she said.

The trend of married women to go back to the home showed very early following the end of the war, Mrs. Eaton said. Once employment becomes highly competitive and the excitement and build-up of employment has passed, the speaker predicted that married women gainfully employed would voluntarily give up their work.

The transition period for many families where the serviceman is seeking more education or learning a trade was given as a sound reason for the wives of these men to seek employment, in order to assist in rehabilitation.

In speaking of the married woman who does not have to work, Mrs. Eaton said the percentage of these women who compete for salaried jobs is very small. She mentioned the great number of married women who have worked for years without criticism—artists, cooks, writers, dressmakers or scientists.

"In this country, a married woman is free to seek employment," Mrs. Eaton stated. "The great fundamental principle is to keep this door open. There are many opportunities open to married women, where the head of a family responsible for its welfare, does not dare to step. I would advise a married woman who wishes to continue working, without necessity to go about it realistically, and seek some position such as this, for which she is particularly suited."

Miss N. McKilloch was chairman at the meeting.

Teens Committee Wants New Set-Up

The working committee of boys and girls who run the Teen Canteen at 1052 Fort Street met recently to discuss problems arising out of the tremendous growth of the movement in the past year.

Jim Forsyth was in the chair and the boys and girls were unanimous in their belief that the project had grown so large a new committee set-up is necessary.

With this in mind the committee has called a general meeting for Tuesday evening at the Teen Canteen, when it is hoped that all 500 members and all others interested will attend and express their views so that a decision may be reached as to the form the reorganization will take.

Mrs. Kay Jeune, the supervisor of the Teen Canteen, explains that the Victoria organization is one of the biggest of its kind in British Columbia and has an excellent basis for success.

GOOD START

They have a big building, centrally located, with janitor service. There is a full time adult supervisor. There is also a very able advisory committee representing groups such as the Council of Social Agencies, the Y.W.C.A., Children's Aid Society, Victoria and District P.T. Council and the City Parks Department.

The supervisor and the council are there to help, but the Canteen is run by the young people themselves. "If they want a president to be called a mayor," Mrs. Jeune says, "or a prime minister, or a straw boss, they will have the opportunity at the meeting to say so. The Canteen is theirs and so is the responsibility of making it work. It is up to the boys and girls to decide just how it is to be run for the next year."

In the form of an extra, the first issue of the Canteen's own newspaper, edited and produced by the boys and girls, is available today. In it there is space for members to express their views from time to time on Teen Canteen affairs.

Orphanage Party Honors Staff Members

A farewell party held at the B.C. Protestant Orphanage on Cook Street this week honored two popular staff members, Mrs. E. Harkness, who is retiring after serving as assistant matron of the home for 19 years and Miss Jennie Drever, who is leaving to be married following eight years' service as a children's nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kerr presented the guests of honor with bouquets of daffodils and tulips and C. A. Moore spoke in appreciation of their work. Mrs. A. Barner, matron of the Home, presented Mrs. Harkness with an auto rug and Miss Drever with a clothes' hamper, on behalf of their friends.

A musical program was enjoyed, with the following taking part: Fred Donaghy, Charlie Ellington, Mrs. M. Lang, Mrs. M. Cuthbertson, Rev. Cecil Barner, Frances Hayward, H. Kerr, C. A. Moore and a group of the children.

The guests included Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Barner, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pope, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. H. Seyler, Mr. and Mrs. D. Randel, Mr. and Mrs. E. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. R. The Victoria University Women's Club has written the City Council proposing that the four municipalities of Greater Victoria be amalgamated into one, and that "a highly-qualified town planner be secured, who will produce a master plan for the whole Greater Victoria district."

It was further suggested by the club that this planner be employed before any large expenditure of public funds is made, or any sites fixed.

"Referring to the town-planning expert," the letter continued, "it is understood that he should work in constant consultation with the Town-Planing Commission, and all civic officials concerned. He should have recent training and experience in town planning."

The women in the organization who are residents of all four municipalities believe, the letter stated, that "money spent now for the most expert advice will avoid costly blunders and prove true economy in the long run."

"Courteous drivers are safe drivers," is a slogan which city police have adopted in a drive to lessen the number of traffic accidents.

"Where is the connection between the two, you ask," said Chief John A. McLellan. "Well, here's the way we look at it:

"The pace of modern living tends to rob us of our courtesy. In the horse and buggy days when we traveled at five miles an hour, a few minutes did not mean much. But when we travel at 30, a minute's delay represents half a mile, and we resent it.

"This tends to deprive us of our individuality and traffic becomes to us, not so many human beings moving along a highway, but so many machines. So we become rude and reckless and use a

Catherine Sneddon Bride of G. B. Horne

Catherine Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sneddon, 2909 Bridge Street, exchanged nuptial vows Friday evening in Centennial United Church with Gerald B. Horne, youngest son of Pay-Lieut. J. G. B. Horne, M.B.E., R.C.N. (retired), and Mrs. Horne, 2928 Alhambra Street. Rev. W. R. Ashford performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of white moiré silk styled with a slight train, and featuring Valenciennes lace trim down the panels of the gown from the high neckline to the hem. Her long veil swept from a coronet headdress, and the bridal bouquet was a shower of pink roses, carnations and sweet peas.

Mrs. Sheila Rawlings, sister of the bride, and Miss Gloria Freagard were senior attendants, wearing similar floor-length frocks of white crepe with jackets of turpise moiré silk. Miss Sandra Chattell, niece of the bride, was flower-girl, frocked in peach taffeta, and all three carried colonial bouquets.

Sgt. John Sneddon supported the groom, and ushers were R. Sneddon, J. Boothroyd and J. Rawlinson. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Vivian McCall sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

A reception was held at the Y.W.C.A., where mothers of the couple assisted in receiving the guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by J. S. Brown.

For a motor trip to Puget Sound cities, the bride wore a beige tweed dressmaker suit, tailored coat of dark-brown doak, alligator accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Horne will reside at 1002 1/2 Balmoral Road.

White Taffeta Gown Worn By Frances Borde

Rev. George Biddle performed the marriage ceremony Friday evening in St. John's Church with "Auntie" Frances Borde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Borde, 1058 Pembroke Street, and Joseph Hodson, son of J. G. Hodson, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and the late Mrs. Hodson. During the signing of the register, Mrs. M. Bartlett sang "Love's Coronation," accompanied by the organist, T. R. Myers.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a white taffeta gown featuring princess lines with sweetheart neckline, lily-point sleeves and skirt slightly on train. A wreath of orange blossoms held her floor-length veil of tulle, and she carried a shower bouquet of carnations and roses in two shades of pink. A pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, completed her ensemble.

Mrs. N. A. Bouchard was her sister's only attendant, and wore a gown of pink taffeta, with a bandeau of fresh flowers and a snood of pink net. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve sweetpeas. N. A. Bouchard was groomsmen and A. B. Morbey ushers.

A reception for 60 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, the couple leaving later for a honeymoon trip up-island. For traveling, the bride wore a pearl grey suit with fuchsia topcoat, black accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses.

Plan School Here For Handicrafts

A Veterans' Handicraft School, which is hoped will be especially valuable to disabled veterans, is the worthy project being planned by Miss Helga Hilditch of this city.

Miss Hilditch, who organized the K.T.H. Club of Victoria which is connected with the Knights of Columbus, has recently returned after spending six and a half months at No. 1 Women's Service Health Centre at Harrison Hot Springs as the K. of C. recreational supervisor.

Much valuable handicraft equipment has been made available to the K.T.H. Club which will sponsor the Veterans' School. Girls of the club are being trained now, at their own expense, by Mrs. Ursula Wilkinson, Canadian Legion instructor at the Harrison Hot Springs Centre.

They expect to be qualified in six weeks to teach handicrafts to veterans. On presentation of discharge papers, no charge will be made, for veterans, except for materials.

The work, which finds a ready sale, includes leather wallets, key rings, albums, handbags, lapel ornaments, shearing slippers, moccasins and gloves. Weaving is done chiefly on linen manufactured in B.C. and towels, table mats, bridge cloths, blouses, baby dresses, curtains, rugs, scarfs and handwoven yardage are made.

In order to publicize the idea, Miss Hilditch has entered a hat made from this handwoven material in a contest sponsored by the NBC program, "Breakfast in Hollywood."

Meeting Discusses Welfare Problems

Under the auspices of the Vancouver Island Branch of the Canadian Association for Social Workers, Miss Norma Lea, assistant executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, addressed a representative group of lay and professional citizens who are concerned with general welfare problems of the community.

Miss Lea described vividly the organization, function and importance of a Community Welfare Council, formerly known as the Council of Social Agencies, which has now become an integral organization of most cities.

A Community Welfare Council was described as being the product of the combined operation of members of lay, professional, public and private organizations and it was emphasized that the real work and life of the council depends on the strength of its divisions which cover health, recreation, legislation, child and family welfare work.

In illustrating the analytical studies made by a council, Miss Lea mentioned the delinquency problem which is related to the recreational program of the community. Through analyzing the intake of children's aid societies and the juvenile courts it has been noted that there may be delinquency pockets in areas which are not run down but lack constructive recreational facilities. Through the efforts of one of Canada's Community Welfare Councils these recreational needs were filled and a subsequent drop in delinquency noted.

Miss Lea also mentioned the importance of the Community Chest, which agency is responsible for raising money and dispersing it through the council to its member agencies.

Those who heard Miss Lea speak after a buffet supper at the Priory Guest House were: Mesdames M. Christie, G. Hughes, W. E. Mitchell, F. Murrin, J. McKinnon, J. Straith, T. Sehl, J. Miller, A. I. Spurgeon, Cmdr. and Mrs. A. J. Tullis, Misses B. E. Adams, D. Begg, M. Baird, M. Crickmay, M. Clay, J. Day, L. Fraser, M. Ferguson, M. Gould, B. Hall, E. J. Herbert, R. Kirkendale, D. E. Mitchell, A. L. Mess, C. L. McNaughton, I. M. McKenzie, A. C. Smith, M. Wright, M. Wightman, Maj. N. Bell, O. A. Butters, E. W. Griffiths, Adj. F. Hewitt.

Better Understanding Of Veterans Urged

A challenge was thrown out to citizens of the community by Dr. Olive Russell, executive assistant to the Director-General of Rehabilitation, D.V.A., Friday when she stated it would require all their ingenuity to help veterans to find jobs which not only comply with their qualifications, but which realize their desires.

This problem of servicemen and servicewomen who grow physically and mentally in the service and are faced with frustration after returning to a civilian job which they have outgrown, was posed during Dr. Russell's address to a meeting of women members of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council. For some veterans there would come a chance to take jobs in keeping with their increased capacity, for others, increased attention to the responsibilities of citizenship might provide an outlet, the speaker said.

In speaking of the rehabilitation of servicemen, Dr. Russell said it is important that everything be done to see that they become a responsible part of the community again, and not a separate group of war veterans.

Demand from employers for ex-servicemen exceeded the supply, with their level of education being higher than that of the civilian, as the result of new skills learned in the services. Of those discharged, 5,000 had been placed by the National Employment Service, an estimated 5,000 had found work on their own, 3,000 had been reinstated, an estimated 4,000 had returned to their homes or set up new homes, and 3,000 were taking training.

Council of Women

Annual sessions of the Provincial Council of Women will be held in Victoria Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. Delegates from Chilliwack, New Westminster, Kamloops, Vancouver, North Vancouver, Nanaimo and Victoria will attend and present reports of the year's work. The general meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 in the Y.W.C.A. when resolutions and election of officers will take place. Thursday, a luncheon meeting will be held at the Kit Kat Cafe and during the afternoon, Mayor P. E. George will bring greetings from the city. Delegates from the council will meet the cabinet Friday morning at 10 to present resolutions passed at the meeting.

Dorothy Dix

FACIAL EXPRESSIONS
Dear Miss Dix—I can't look anyone in the eyes when I am talking to them and, naturally, they don't think I am paying any attention to them. I look dumb. My mother says I have a deadpan face. I have practiced in front of the mirror how to look intelligent, but all I do is just look a little dumber. Even my smile is a friendly sneer.
Is there any facial exercise that I could take that would help me?
LOREEN.

Answer—Of course, actors do learn how to register different emotions, such as fear, joy, or mirth, or anger, but I think it would be what is called a speaking countenance.
Anyway, an individual's expression should come from within instead of without. If it is to make any genuine appeal to the beholder, so you will waste your time in smirking before a mirror. All that you would gain would be to look hypocritical if you assumed a glad, expectant look when you were talking to a bore, or if you tried to look tender and loving at someone you loathed.

GAIN SELF-CONFIDENCE
Your inability to look people in the eye is shyness, and you can conquer that by gaining self-confidence, and the way to get that is to quit thinking so much about yourself and the impression you are making on others, and concentrate your attention on the one to whom you are speaking.

Your mother has done you a great, if unintentional, wrong, by continually telling you that you look dumb. To be made conscious of our shortcomings impresses them on us far oftener than it cures them. Millions of people are failures in the world because their families have always thrown up to them that they would never amount to anything.

Clubwomen

Anniversary Banquet—Capital City Temple, No. 35, Pythian Sisters, celebrated their seventh anniversary with a banquet at Terry's. A meeting was held later in the K. of P. Hall and following that a party was held with many of the Knights attending. A cheque for $100 was presented by Mrs. Blanche Waggett to the Knights for the new K. of P. building on Cormorant Street. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a huge birthday cake, the gift of the Knights of Capital City Lodge, No. 1. A St. Patrick's tea will be held on Tuesday in the K. of P. Hall. The tea will be officially opened by Mrs. R. W. Mayhew at 2.

W.B.A. Meeting—The resignation of Mrs. M. McDonald as president was accepted at the last meeting of the Women's Benefit Association, and members extended their best wishes on her recent marriage. Mrs. R. Malcolm was appointed in her place. A health clinic is being planned for the first week in April, when Mrs. Laura Le Galais, provincial health supervisor, will be in attendance. Mrs. J. White was appointed welfare supervisor. The Qu-Alex Girls' Club will hold a tea Wednesday at the home of Mrs. G. Bowden, 1034 Southgate Street. The Pioneer Club will have charge of the card party March 18. The sewing group will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. R. Malcolm.

Laud Lions Support Of Scout Movement

Tribute was paid the Victoria Lions Club at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel Friday by Freeman King, field commissioner of the Victoria and District Boy Scouts Association, for undertaking the sponsorship of a senior leaders' troop.

Such sponsorships by public spirited service clubs, the field commissioner said, "enables us to provide valuable leadership material to foster the movement in this area." He said he would like to see more public organizations follow the Lions lead.

Four patrol leaders of the Lions troop spoke briefly, told members of the value of scouting, of its many assets in building the character of youth to ensure future "good citizens." They were Macgregor Macintosh, William Hurst, William Sherman and William Welsh.

The Burns Club of Victoria will hear an address entitled, "With the Canadian Troops in Holland," by Lt.-Col. Cyril Wightman, at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday evening at 8. Rev. T. H. McAllister will preside.

War Changes Appearance of Cableship Restorer

Most recent photograph of the cableship Restorer, now tied up at Yarrow's Ltd. for repairs and reconversion, shows a considerable change in her superstructure. What was formerly clear deck space on her port and starboard sides amidships, has been converted to provide accommodation for the larger crew necessitated by war. Just aft of the bridge which carries two machine gun turrets, is a radar aerial mast. Her masts are considerably shorter than in peacetime, and other wartime changes can be seen fore and aft of the midship housing.

Delay May Mean Airport Site Will Become Residence Area

A strong recommendation that the four municipalities of Greater Victoria acquire all property in the Gordon Head district necessary for the development of an airport capable of taking large commercial transport planes was made by A. H. Wilson, assistant inspector of Western Airways, Friday-afternoon speaking to a meeting of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee.

Mr. Wilson stressed that if steps were not taken immediately to acquire the property, in all probability the opportunity would pass and the area would be built up for residential purposes. He also emphasized that this was the only area in the vicinity of Victoria where it was possible to establish a commercial airport for civilian purposes.

He pointed out that the time has come when every village, town, city and hamlet must establish airstrip landing facilities because the "future of aviation has no bounds." In the very near future, he insisted, there would be several thousand civilian planes being flown up and down the Pacific coast, and they would need places to be kept, to be serviced, and to land.

Among the points in favor of establishing the airport at Gordon Head listed by Mr. Wilson were the fact that it is reasonably close to the city, it will serve; there are adequate means of transportation into the city; there is freedom from fog and smoke because it is on high ground and there is good drainage.

He asked that the municipalities with the power pass zoning regulations which will prohibit the building of tall buildings on the edges of the airport and at the ends of the runways.

OPPOSED TO PATRICIA BAY
He was opposed to any suggestion that Patricia Bay might be suitable, contending that it is too far from the city, and that air force and commercial flying cannot be carried on safely or efficiently from the same airport.

In order to establish what he described as a Class IV airport, that is, one with runways designed to take larger aircraft such as Lodestars, it would be necessary to have runways 5,000 feet long, and later to have them a bit longer when larger planes come in. The tract of land taken in by government property and Hudson Bay Company property at hand would provide runways capable of taking light aircraft. Mr. Wilson said, but the acquiring of small strips of land in three directions would enable the longer runways to be laid, particularly if proper zoning regulations were implemented.

He stressed that after an examination of the area he had found no large houses that would have to be disturbed. "There may be two or three small shacks that will have to be moved," he said. "And possibly a few raspberry or loganberry canes will have to be transplanted to get the necessary land, but that is all."

From readings taken by the anemometer during the past three months to determine prevailing winds, Mr. Wilson reported that one runway should go 130 degrees true from the centre, and the other one 200 degrees true.

In answer to a question from A. S. G. Musgrave, Oak Bay engineer, about the practicability of using seaplanes for Victoria, Mr. Wilson declared that they are out of the question as the cost of operation is exorbitant. Land planes will be used for all airline and feeder service work, he contended, leaving seaplanes to be used only for certain special types of charter jobs.

"ONLY POSSIBILITY"
W. T. Straith, M.L.A., detailed investigations that had gone on 12 years ago in search of a suitable airport site, and the conclusion reached then was that Gordon Head offered the only possibility. Col. H. L. Sherwood, air force engineer, bore this out, and said that the only reason Patricia Bay had been chosen by the air force was because both sea and land facilities were wanted at the time it was established.

Reeve A. G. Lambrick of Saanich was insistent on cross-examining Mr. Wilson on the added hazards incident to the large-scale operation of a civilian flying field, where careless pilots might cause accidents, just as bad automobile drivers do, but with worse consequences. Mr. Wilson reassured him that regulations for pilots were such that there was little likelihood of a negligent pilot being allowed to fly, and if there were such an individual he might just as easily fly in from some other airfield as from Gordon Head. He also pointed out that many American cities are adopting the plan of having airports right in the city centre, which are proving a great asset to the city.

Engineers from Saanich, Oak Bay and the city were instructed by the meeting to confer with Mr. Wilson and to draw up a plan which would show clearly the largest possible area of land that would be needed for present or future civilian airport needs at Gordon Head, and the location of the runways under this scheme.

As soon as the plan is completed, it will be presented to all municipalities for their consideration. Ald. B. J. Gadsden, committee chairman, said, Ald. Gadsden declared himself strongly in favor of the establishment of the airport at Gordon Head. Reeve Lambrick pledged that

Saanich would do all possible to have an airport established, and stressed the necessity of "coming out in the open with the plan to let the people know exactly what is wanted. There has been far too much misunderstanding on this matter already," he declared. R. H. B. Ker, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, who was accompanied by Archie Willis and Maj. H. C. Holmes, insisted that if the municipalities would go ahead with acquiring the site there was little doubt but that federal authorities and T.C.A. would give assistance in constructing runways and developing the airport.

Spy Publicity Will Widen Breach Says Herbert Gargrave

The Canadian spy question was brought into the B.C. legislative discussion Friday by Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F., Mackenzie, who pleaded the present propaganda drive could have no other effect than widening the breach already existing between Russia and the rest of the world, and if continued would inevitably lead to another world war.

While he claimed the actions of the Soviet Union were not commendable, they did not warrant anti-Soviet poison and propaganda being spread in North America.

"The Soviet Union," said Mr. Gargrave, "has good cause to be suspicious of the capitalist world, for every obstacle has been placed in its path. It overcame them all and is building up in one-sixth of the world a mighty powerful nation where exploitation of man by man is being abolished."

World peace demands an understanding of the Soviet Union, he said.

"With one great world war just finished, we seem determined to head into another," said Mr. Gargrave. "Distrust among former allies seems to be increasing, and an attempt is being made in Canada to mould public opinion against the Soviet Union."

The Soviet Union, he said, appeared to have only been following out what seemed to be an international practice of collecting information.

Mr. Gargrave said he did not think anyone in the C.C.F. opposition would quarrel with Premier Hart's insistence and evident success to obtain a better financial deal from the Dominion government at the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

MUST DRIVE HARD BARGAIN

"From an orthodox financial point of view, I doubt very much if we could get a better bargain than the Premier," he said, "and everyone in this House appreciates the fact that the west must drive a hard bargain with the east in light of past experiences."

He warned, however, "In all of our dealings on Dominion-provincial issues, we must remember that we are first of all Canadians, and secondly that we are fortunate enough to live here in B.C."

Charging publicly-owned power would never be effective in B.C. if the compact, highly-settled areas were left under private ownership, Mr. Gargrave said.

"The province is taking the skimmed milk and leaving the cream to the B.C. Electric and West Kootenay Power Corp."

He said he did not believe the government could afford to shelve the Sloan report for another year and that even the logging operators were realizing the folly of their past actions, having become interested in conservation and planting.

Example of Discipline In Israel

Scripture: The Book of Numbers, especially chapter 14:11-24

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

WHEN one reads with a sense of realism, much in the story of ancient Israel, and especially in the story of the migration from Egypt, the wandering in the wilderness and the conquest of Canaan, is full of strange contrasts.

Here and there are thoughts of a loving and merciful God, cherishing and guiding a people, as in verse 18, of the 11th chapter of Numbers: "Jehovah is slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression." But elsewhere adverse events and happenings are represented as the judgment by an angry God. Prosperity and adversity are represented, respectively, as marking God's favor or God's disapproval.

For this there was much warrant in the nature of the times, and the life of the people. To day great masses of innocent and unoffending people may be subject to great suffering and disaster from causes over which they have no control.

Remote events in the world may bring upon them starvation and death; or merciful and helpful attitudes on the part of people removed from them by oceans may give them hope of survival and of ultimate restoration and happiness.

All this we see in our own times. We are conscious of how much depends upon us, the people of Canada, who are given the opportunity of playing the part of providence to millions of needy fellow-mortals. But in ancient Israel, particularly in the wilderness life of a closely-knit community, health, safety and prosperity—or disease, adversity and disaster—depended much more directly upon the people themselves, in their moral character, their consideration for one another and their willingness to accept disciplines in behalf of common protection and welfare.

The early interpreters of God's purposes and will did not allow the moral uses of adversity. They had no adequate religious philosophy to meet, or explain, the inflictions of suffering that seem to fall upon the good, as well as upon the evil, in the common experiences of life. This was the problem faced in the Book of Job, and by the later prophets, with a suggested solution in the admonition, "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth."

Nevertheless, apart from the experiences that are beyond one's own control, and which must be borne with faith and fortitude, and which yield what Paul calls "the peaceable fruit of righteousness," the primitive life of Israel makes plain what happens when a people refuse to accept and exercise the reasonable disciplines which are inevitably associated with moral character and social responsibility. Disaster came upon them when character failed.

Victoria Nature Talks

By ROBERT CONNELL

GARDEN ANIMAL LIFE

An English book for inquiring gardeners was written a little over 60 years ago, under the title "Our Garden Friends and Pests."

The author, the Rev. J. G. Wood, a noted naturalist of his day, begins with rabbits, mice, rats, moles and hedgehogs, and ends with spiders, centipedes and earthworms. It would take as large a book at least to cover all the animals of all degrees that appear more or less permanently in our Victoria gardens, and there would be many similarities and even identities, as well as a few differences. With the cultivation of gardens the common weeds go hand in hand, so to speak, with a number of animals of classes below the vertebrates.

With the awakening of our flowering plants the animal dwellers come into increasing prominence. We find the slugs busy on the leaves and flowers of certain species, and a little searching under stones and boards in our damp corners reveals two species of these slow-moving but persistent animals. Their soft, damp bodies, and the trail of glittering slime they leave behind in their progress, make them at least disagreeable to most of us, quite apart from the damage they do. There is little choice between the small, dumpy pale ones and the more slender, dark ones, with their finely ribbed backs.

They quite make up in damage for the absence of snails, or at least their rarity, and snails have at least a displayed shell of some beauty, while the slug's is rudimentary and hidden beneath the skin. Fortunately, the huge native slug, yellow, black, or more usually mottled, confines itself almost wholly to the wild. The grass snake is not uncommon in gardens, and is to be looked upon decidedly as a friend, for it is a devourer of slugs. I once saw one tuck and swallow one of the native ones. It was a long process, and not pleasant to see. The garter snake also feeds on a variety of insects, and is, in fact, the counterpart of the British ringed or grass snake, and is sometimes called by the latter name.

THE FLOW OF NATURE

A prejudice exists against the common earthworm, based largely upon its snakelike form and wriggling. Nevertheless, it is one of man's best friends. One of the most interesting books Charles Darwin wrote is his "Vegetable Mould and Earthworms," and every gardener should read it. Its remarkable exhibition of facts confirms his well-known words: "The flow is one of the most ancient and most valuable of man's inventions; but long before it existed the land was, in fact, regularly plowed, and still continues to be plowed by earthworms. It may be doubted whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the world as have these lowly organized creatures."

Their castings, it is true, do not ornament the green velvet of the lawn, but its borings drain the surface, aerate the soil below, and bring up in the castings a wealth of fine, rich earth. Lowly as it is in structure, its intelligence is shown in the manner in which it draws leaves down into its burrows, usually by the pointed tip, but sometimes by the foot-stalk, if that presents an easier mode of handling. These leaves are used partly for food and partly protectively.

THE WOLF SPIDER

In the summer the commonest spider in the garden is the wolf spider, a harmless relative of the tarantulas. An active little black creature, it is characteristically a ground spider, found in dry sunny places by fences and stones. Then the females will be seen with their egg-bags slung behind, later hatching out into scores of minute black youngsters. Already a few of the mature ones are to be seen.

And no nation is secure when moral and social disciplines are disregarded and refused.

Here in our country today we are facing serious consequences because large numbers of people are morally and socially undisciplined. At the lowest scale are the willfully criminal, carrying nothing about what happens to others or how they suffer, as long as they themselves get their ill-gotten gains. A little higher are those who operate within the law, but whose greed and selfishness are little less than criminal in their results.

Much higher, but morally and socially ineffective, are the "good" people who live to themselves, but who do little to restrain evil. Social discipline, as well as self-discipline, is at the very foundation of social welfare. It is as true today as in the day that God spake on Sinai.

The problem faced in the Book of Job, and by the later

prophets, with a suggested solution in the admonition, "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth."

Quantity, Quality Of Meat to Drop Says Wholesaler

Commenting on a report from Vancouver of a possible meat shortage early this summer, one local packing house official stated today there would be a decrease in the quantity and quality of meat, since ranchers were not feeding high-priced grain to their cattle.

"There will be no meat famine," he said. "We experienced this same thing two or three years ago. There will be enough beef to get by, but it will not be such good quality."

Owing to the increased cost of grain, and a price ceiling standardizing cattle prices in summer and winter, ranchers will put their cattle on grass, which takes longer for them to develop, the official said.

"If the government would allow us to increase the ceiling, the rancher could afford to feed the high-priced grain to his cattle," he added.

Wood Check Shows Normal Shrinkage Ald. Diggon States

Checks of stocks of wood remaining in the Garbally Road wood yard, and a properly-audited statement of wood sold by the city, show definitely that there is no shortage of the wood, beyond what can be termed "normal wastage and shrinkage," Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the city fuel committee, declared today.

"I do not know why Ald. Morgan made the statement he did of large wood losses," Ald. Diggon declared. "He will have to answer that question for himself when he returns to the city."

Records show, Ald. Diggon said, that 951 cords were delivered to the city yard in 1943. Some of this was what Ald. Diggon termed "short measure," because of the presence of large knots in the box cords, and when the wood was stacked it did not measure to full cords.

Of this a total of 795 cords have been sold and delivered to date; five cords were given to city charitable institutions; approximately 35 cords were used by city workmen to heat their shops, 31 cords remain in the yard, principally knots and wastage.

City Hall Staff Asks Council to Justify 'Slurs'

The City Hall Employees Association decided at a meeting Friday night to send a letter to the city council deploring the cloud which had been cast over their efficiency as a result of the recent efficiency survey, Kenneth Reid, association president, said today.

The association will ask the council to justify the casting of slurs on the efficiency of the staff in the City Hall, feeling that the statements of the business analyst have caused the public to feel that each employee is inefficient in his or her job.

The association declared that its members are willing and anxious to co-operate in any further survey which would make city hall administration more efficient.

Committee Reports On 3 Private Bills

Reports from the Select Standing Committee on Standing Orders and Private Bills on three private bills were received by the Legislature Friday.

The bills, entitled: "An act to amend the Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921," "An act to amend the British Columbia Insurance Company Act, 1904," and a bill authorizing the Minister of Lands and Forest to give crown grants or quit-claim deeds of certain foreshore property, will be proceeded with by the petitioners.

The reports were made by W. T. Straith, K.C., Coalition, Victoria, chairman of the committee.

Need Legislation On Nuisance By-law

Investigations into the city's powers with regard to the passage of nuisance by-laws which would legislate on such matters as junk yards in residential areas, indicate that it will require legislative action to give the city the necessary power, A. J. Patton, city solicitor, said today.

Because of a continued nuisance of this type Monday's city council meeting decided to try and get the necessary powers to legislate. Mr. Patton said today that at present the city cannot legislate against a "private nuisance."

He said he believed that the matter would have to be taken up by the Union of B.C. Municipalities before the provincial government would be prevailed upon to pass the necessary act giving the city power.

Ask Larger Share of Provincial Revenue For Municipalities

Strong representation for allocation of a larger share of provincial revenue to municipalities was made in a brief presented by the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade at a dinner meeting with members of the cabinet and Opposition members in the Empress Hotel Friday evening.

The brief, which was presented by E. V. Crowley, president of the junior board, also expressed approval of the Cameron report on educational financing, the Sloan forestry report, and retirement of over-age civil servants with replacement by veterans.

Discussion of government policy was declined by Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests, and Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, who said they would wait until legislation was framed.

Mr. Kenney opposed creation of a commission for administration of forest policy as recommended in the Sloan report, and he was joined in his opposition to the proposal by H. E. Winch, C.C.F. leader, who, however, with Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F.—MacKenzie), expressed general approval of both the Sloan and Cameron reports.

Mr. Winch asked that E. and N. Railway timber grants be placed in the hands of the people and asked for immediate action in doing this.

Mr. Gargrave expressed concern that the Cameron report might not be adopted in full for administration, saying he feared it might be used by municipalities to reduce taxation instead of equalizing and improving education.

Others attending the dinner given by the 20-man Vancouver delegation were: Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor and provincial secretary, representing Premier John Hart; Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry; Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture; E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby); and C. J. Harrington, president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Town Topics

The monthly meeting of the North Quadra Scout Group committee will be held Monday night at 8 in the hall at Glasgow Avenue instead of the second Tuesday as formerly.

For the first time in many months, there were no cases for the weekly sitting of the Oak Bay Police Court Friday afternoon. One motorist was summoned for driving without a license, but he paid his $5 fine without appearing in court.

Mrs. E. B. Trump of Hamilton, Ont., has written Mayor Percy George inquiring about skating facilities in the city and when the arena will be finished. Her family, and a neighbor with 'teen-age children, all keen skaters are contemplating moving to Victoria, she says.

On March 18 the Victoria University Extension Association will be addressed by Dr. C. W. Topping of the department of economics, political science, and sociology at U.B.C. on "Control of Crime as an Engineering Project." The lecture will be at Victoria College at 8.15 p.m.

The Bank of Montreal announces the opening of a sub-branch at Sooke, giving a banking service two days each week, Tuesdays and Fridays. An office will be opened in the premises of the Sooke Supply Store and the service will commence March 12, observing banking hours of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

B.C. Mine Output Worth $6,000,000 More in 1945

British Columbia's mineral production in 1945 was estimated today by Mines Minister E. C. Carson at $61,000,000—an increase of $6,000,000 over the 1944 total.

The combined value of principal precious and base metals is now estimated at about $49,000,000, or nearly $10,000,000 more than in 1944, said the minister.

This increase, however, was partially offset by a cut of 25 per cent in the 1945 coal production from 1944. In 1945 coal produced by B.C. mines was valued at $6,100,000, against $8,200,000 in 1944.

"The quantities of placer gold, lode gold and silver are not far from the 1944 figures, and the gross value for precious metals is now estimated at $9,900,000. For the year 1945, a little below the 1944 figure," said Mr. Carson.

"Copper production as now estimated is a little more than two-thirds of the 1944 quantity but as the price is higher for 1945, the gross value declined less than the quantity."

Copper production was estimated at $3,200,000 in 1945, and $4,300,000 in 1944.

"Lead and zinc production both increased moderately in quantity and increased greatly in gross value because the prices for 1945 are materially higher than for 1944," he said.

The statistics were given as follows: Lead, 1945, $16,700,000; 1944, $13,200,000; zinc, 1945, $19,100,000; 1944, $12,000,000.

Structural materials showed an increase of $500,000, while miscellaneous metals, minerals and materials declined 1,400,000.

Vacation of Service Centres May Ease Housing Shortage

A certain amount of relief for Victoria's desperate housing shortage depends on what owners of service centres and barracks decide to do with them when they are vacated or turned back by the government March 31.

That is the date set for vacation of both Balmoral House, which since Dec. 15, 1942, has been operated as a service women's leave centre and the Knights of Columbus hut, 732 Cormorant Street. Kildonan House, rented by the air force as a women's division barracks, is soon to be turned back to its owner, C. L. Aylard. The big house on Foul Bay Road has been vacated and air force officials expect to terminate their lease by March 31.

"We very much hope Balmoral House will go back to housekeeping rooms," said Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse, Emergency Shelter head, today. "It would give accommodation to returned men with small families who can find nothing at the present time."

Canadian Contralto Has Liking for Jazz

Jean Watson, attractive contralto, who will sing in the Royal tonight, has come with many of America's leading classical music groups but she admitted here today she has a fondness for jazz, especially that of Harry James and his trumpet.

She attributed this taste for the "hot" trumpet to a brother who has an avid interest in the trumpet. However, Miss Watson says she confines her interest in jazz to listening. She does not sing it.

Miss Watson was born in Scotland and came to Canada at nine years of age. Her family settled in St. Thomas, Ont.

Like most Scottish families, she said, hers was quite musical, but it was not until she was 19 that she first began to think she had a voice good enough to really go ahead with.

She entered contests at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and "much to the surprise of everyone at home," ended up with the Gold Medal.

From that, her career began, and she went to the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Her training there stood her in good stead when she went to New York.

For those who want to go to New York and seek fame, Miss Watson advises a training at Toronto first. Too many have gone without, and suffered accordingly in the U.S. metropolis.

Miss Watson said she always included a few British folk songs in her repertoire. Most foreign singers included folk songs of their countries, she said, and she believed those of Britain were equally beautiful.

Thief Gets $45

Theft of $45 in bills from her apartment was reported to city police, Friday, by Mrs. M. Matheson, 2321 Cook Street.

The thief missed about $200 worth of jewelry and a watch which were in a drawer close to one from which the money was taken, Mrs. Matheson said.

Theft of a watch from her room in a Store Street hotel was reported early this morning by Mrs. Peggy Ambrose.

Youngsters Confess Milk Bottle Pilfering

Two boys, 15 and 14 years old, confessed to city police today they had been responsible for the theft of small amounts of money from milk bottles left on porches in the Fernwood and Fairfield districts recently.

The youths were taken into custody by Constable Ron Davidson this morning. Later they pointed out to police the houses from which they had taken money from milk bottles.

MacMurray, Colbert In Comedy At York

Addition of Jane Frazee to the list of players in the current Mitchell Leisen comedy, "Practically Yours," due Monday at the York Theatre, rounds out an all-star cast. The romantic leads are played by Calumet Colbert and Fred MacMurray, Gil Lamb, who was starred in his last picture "Rainbow Island," is the rival suitor for Claudette's hand. Cecil Kellaway, also a star in his own right, has a major supporting role along with Isobel Randolph, the famous Mrs. Uppington of radio; Tom Powers, who was starred on Broadway for 20 years, and Robert Benchley.

One sequence takes place at a smart New York dinner club. Miss Frazee is in this sequence and gives out neatly with a musical number.

DOMINION THEATRE

It was love at first sight at the Dominion Theatre last night as an enthusiastic audience of first-nighters gave their hearty approval to Warner Bros. latest and brightest film romance, "Too Young to Know." Co-starring Joan Leslie and Robert Hutton and featuring such capable supporting players as Dolores Moran, Rosemary DeCamp and Harry Davenport, the film marks Hollywood's first attempt to handle the timely problem of kiss-and-run marriages with intelligence, understanding and humor. But more than that — more than merely resting on its laurels after posing an arresting problem — the film also contains a neat and cheerfully engaging object lesson for thousands of today's youngsters who jump feet first into marriage and do their thinking afterwards.

British Ship Here Duplicate of C.P.R. Liners

St. Empire Wilson which was drydocked Friday afternoon for scraping and painting by Yarrows Ltd., is an exact duplicate of the two Beaver ships recently purchased by the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd. to revive the trans-Pacific service. Ships of this type are 10,000 tons, attain a speed of 16 knots and have accommodation for 40 passengers. It is expected the Canadian Pacific will put the two Beaver ships on the trans-Pacific run by April.

Midnight Show Sunday At Rio

Mirth and melody are blended in "Seven Days Ashore," RKO Radio's latest musical comedy offering, which is being shown Sunday midnight at the Rio Theatre.

The romantic troubles of a trio of merchant sailors on a week's leave provide the complications of the plot, and five catchy songs and two novelty numbers are woven into the swift action. The comedy team of Wally Brown and Alan Carney, with Marcy McGuire, Dooley Wilson, Gordon Oliver, Elaine Shepherd and others are in important roles.

'Kiss and Tell' At Capitol Monday

Columbia Pictures' "Kiss and Tell," screen adaptation of the sensational stage hit, will star Shirley Temple at the Capitol Theatre starting on Monday. Others in the cast include Jerome Courtland, Walter Abel, Robert Benchley, Porter Hall, Tom Tully, Virginia Welles, Katharine Alexander, Scott McKay and Mary Phillips. The screenplay was written by F. Hugh Herbert. It was directed by Richard Wallace.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Screen star Rod Cameron is sometimes asked about his reputed resemblance to four noted cinema celebrities, Randolph Scott, John Wayne, Fred MacMurray or Gary Cooper. His answer is, "If you don't mind, I'd rather impersonate Rod Cameron."

Rod, who is co-starred with Yvonne De Carlo in the current Universal Technicolor production, "Frontier Gal," at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, has two hobbies—making ship models and carving small wooden ornaments. He makes his ship models in his garage at his house in the Hollywood hills, where he lives alone.

Glauco d'Attili, concert pianist, who will be accompanist for Mme. Korjus at her concert March 16 at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Mrs. d'Attili was recently chosen by Toscanini for an international broadcast under the famous conductor's baton.

Speech Debate Ends

The 11-day debate on the address in reply to the speech of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was concluded at 5:45 Friday afternoon and the motion of thanks was formally passed without division.

At 3 on Monday afternoon the House will go into committee of supply.

While this motion was formally passed Friday afternoon, it is believed the House on Monday will consider several bills now before it and the budget will be presented Tuesday by Premier John Hart, who is also Minister of Finance.

Thirty-four of the 47 members of the Legislature took part in the debate which started the day after the Legislature opened, Feb. 21.

Police Will Summons 'Traffic Light Beaters'

A drive against pedestrians who disobey traffic signals will be started immediately, Police Inspector John Blackstock announced today.

"Pedestrians must wait for the traffic lights to change to green before they step off the curb. If they don't they will be summoned to court," the inspector said.

In the last two days, three pedestrians have paid $1 fines when they pleaded guilty in court to "beating the light" charges.

ATLAS THEATRE

After 11-year-old Beverley Wills completed her role in the new "George White's Scandals" at RKO Radio, which is now at the Atlas Theatre, Mama Joan Davis asked her daughter which scene impressed her most. "The one where I climbed the cherry tree," replied Beverley. "It not only impressed me, but it scratched me," holding up a well-scratched shin.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—"George White Scandals," starring Joan Davis and Jack Haley.
 CAPITOL—"The Lost Weekend," starring Ray Milland and Jane Wyman.
 DOMINION—Dolores Moran and Harry Davenport in "Too Young to Know."
 OAK BAY-PLAZA—"Frontier Gal," starring Yvonne De Carlo and Rod Cameron.
 RIO—"Outlaws of the Rockies," starring Charles Starrett.
 YORK—Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas in "He Stayed for Breakfast."

To Name Scottish Officers Shortly

Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, G.O.C.-in-C. Pacific Command, Vancouver, announced Friday night that the selection of new officers for the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Reserve) will be determined by the middle of March.

A new choice will be made for the regimental commanding officer, as it is understood the present commander, Col. H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., will retire shortly.

Referring to this position, the G.O.C.-in-C. noted the importance of "getting the right man." He said he had been "going slowly on the matter," expected to receive further recommendations.

Must File Statement In Used Car Sale

Statements of sale with regard to used car deals must still be filed at the War-time Prices and Trade Board office, according to C. H. Booth, local representative.

"Some people seem to be under the impression that they no longer have to file a statement of sale, but it is required," Mr. Booth said.

DOVER—Dover town council has drawn up a 20-year plan for rebuilding 270 acres of Dover which suffered heavy war damage. Regency houses along the sea front, battered by shellings, are to be pulled down and the building line set back 180 feet.

LEGISLATURE AND THE AIR

AT EVERY ONE of the five sessions of the Legislature in which I have participated, some member has invariably suggested that the House go on the air.

And every now and again a "letter to the editor" appears in our British Columbia press advocating the same thing.

To broadcast or not to broadcast, that is the question. And there is much, perhaps, to be said for both sides of it.

Australia already has adopted the system, I believe. And Britain is giving serious consideration to the proposal. Saskatchewan is trying it.

While a labor delegation waited on the Alberta cabinet a short time ago thought it would be very good policy for that government to broadcast the Legislative debates.

NOT ALL FIREWORKS THERE IS MUCH to commend it, of course. But I see snags ahead!

One of my constituents who favors the idea pointed out to me that she would love to hear the "fireworks—the exciting part"—as she was ironing her husband's shirt!

Now while I have every desire to make the ironing hour easier, I honestly don't think listening to some of our debates would have the same stimulating effect on the ironer as soap operas, say.

For no one who has not sat in the House day after day can realize how deadly dull the daily routine can be—even though the business thus accomplished may be vital to the public.

As to "fireworks," no one knows just when they are coming. Sometimes the tiniest spark will set them off with a bang; at others, the most elaborately planned "set piece" will prove an awful dud and just fizzle out.

Of course, we might improve the shining hour for listeners with an occasional community sing, led by the Speaker; perhaps opening with "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here!" or "The More We Are Together."

SPEAKING AS CENSOR SPOOKING OF THE SPEAKER, I chuckled over a letter which appeared in a mainland paper a few weeks ago.

The writer, who hailed from Hollywood, suggested that the broadcasting of the debates would make Parliament more personal, informative and interesting.

Perhaps it would. But the writer went on to advocate a novel sort of stop-and-go censorship by the Speaker.

"The Speaker would censor speeches by pressing a button. Orators would tell how they are doing by watching the colored lights above the Speaker's desk. Green would mean 'Fine' and red would mean 'The mike is dead'."

THOUGHT AHEAD POOR MR. SPEAKER! He has troubles enough, as it is.

But if he had to take upon himself to declare some of the speeches "fine" or put an opposition member off the air—well, there'd be fireworks with a vengeance.

And I can imagine the devastating effect on said orators if, just as they were passionately perorating, they looked up and saw that the "mike" was dead.

I can see another snag, too. Who would decide at what hour or for how long members should be on the air?

Can't you imagine the scramble for the listening-est hour? As to those members who are inclined to be very talkative—the women, of course—Heaven knows how prolix they would be if they thought anyone was listening from their constituency.

THESE HOURS OF WORK WE HAVE BEEN HEARING quite a lot in the Legislative lobbies lately about hours of work.

Well, M.L.A.'s have no set hours of work, but they put in quite a lot. Not only on the floor of the House—that is the least part of their day.

But at committee meetings, caucuses which go on far, far into the night, in reading and answering mail by the mountain, interviewers galore—all of which adds up to much more than an eight-hour day, believe it or not!

I notice that the British House of Commons has set a 60-hour week for its members. As a London paper puts it, "The Palace of Westminster used to be called the finest club in the world. . . . It may be still, but it is now a working man's club."

BE KIND TO PARLIAMENTARIANS AND I CHORTLED over a suggestion advanced by a U.S. Congressman who wants to start a national "Be-Kind-to-Your-Representative Week."

He is a "hillbilly" Republican from the Missouri Ozarks. And plaintively claims that we have "Be-Kind-to-Animals Week," so "if you can think lovingly of a Missouri mule, you can do as much for your Congressman."

His verdict, according to an eastern paper, is that, as far as his service to his constituents is concerned, they are getting more than their money's worth.

"To hear him talk," the report goes on, "you wonder why anyone ever goes to the trouble of becoming a Congressman. The hours are long, the letters he gets are bad-tempered, the pay is poor."

BODY OF NITWITS BUT EVEN THAT REPRESENTATIVE doesn't believe in 100 per cent kindness in every week for politicians, for in 1935—he was first elected, incidentally, in 1928—he described the U.S. Congress thus:

"This supine, subservient, soporific, supercilious, pusillanimous body of nitwits!"

Having been a member of that august body for 17 years, one presumes he can speak with authority upon its failings.

But if that utterance is typical of his sentiments, I can well understand why he feels it necessary to plead for one week's immunity from cruelty to Congressmen.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rye futures prices were irregular on the Winnipeg grain exchange today, with moderate selling depressing prices, which closed unchanged to 2 3/4 bid, July 3 cents lower at 2.19 asked, and October 1/4 to 1 1/4 lower at 1.84 1/4.

Export business recorded the sale of 400,000 bushels of wheat for shipment to the United Kingdom.
